

Keith Dowman's translation of - Garab Dorje's Cuckoo's Song of Awareness — Adapted and (Amplified) by Lama Jigme Gyatso

Cuckoo's Song of Awareness of Garab Dorje's Dzogchen Semde a.k.a. Prahe Vajra's Mind Meditation

translated into Tibetan by Vairochana Rakshita

translated into English by Keith Dowman

adapted and (amplified) by Dzogchen Semde Lama: Jigme Gyatso

1mar26a

Keith Dowman's translation of - Garab Dorje's Cuckoo's Song of Awareness — Adapted and (Amplified) by Lama Jigme Gyatso

FIRST of six verses

The nature of multiplicity is NON-dual

SECOND of six verses

and things in themselves are pure and simple;

Keith Dowman's translation of - Garab Dorje's Cuckoo's Song of Awareness — Adapted and (Amplified) by Lama Jigme Gyatso

THIRD of six verses

being here and now
is contrivance-free

FOURTH of six verses

and it shines out in all forms always ALL good;

Keith Dowman's translation of - Garab Dorje's Cuckoo's Song of Awareness — Adapted and (Amplified) by Lama Jigme Gyatso

FIFTH of six verses

it is already perfect,
so exertion is redundant

SIXTH of six verses

and spontaneity
is ever natural.

Λ

